IN "DRIFTING"Orpheum Bill Next Week Has Excellent Numbers Finishing With Pictures.

Patrons of the Orpheum vaudeville at the Empire theatre the first half of next week are due for more than one treat. To begin with, the new bill is headlined by the popular Sam Chip and Mary Marle, who came this year with a new vehicle which it will be good news to hear, still keeps them in the delightful atmosphere of Holland. From advice to hand from other critics they have visited this season, it is even more delightful and more brilliantly written than "In Old Edam," which has served this clever team for so many seasons and which their quaint and lively interpretation caused to become a veritable classic of vaudeville. Orpheum vaudeville has brought to Edmonton few more popular people than Sam Chip and Mary Marle.

Then there is another notable attraction in the appearance of Agnes Scott and Henry Keane, in "Drifting," an act that has won universal recognition because of its inimitable charm and delicate delicacy, in its own peculiar smooth and pleasing, youth, and the very joy of living. It is one of the few vaudeville acts that combine art in the writer with equal art in the interpretation, but the explanation in this case is very simple. Indeed it was Miss Scott herself who wrote the sketch, and there are few women on the stage of such bewitching charm. She has her own peculiar mannerisms and her own captivating personality, and is fortunate enough to have in Mr. Keane just the right foil for all her charms and all her cleverness.

Conlin, Steele and Carr, a pair of high-spirited young men and a man, whose rollicking turn, which they call "Rollies of Vaudeville," embodies all the breeziness and jolly and general vivacity of the typical and festive college youth, can be said to be a little more of a musical comedy specialist, brimful of dash and sparkle, and with just enough of novelty to prove that it was built to order for this season. That means that it is new, which alone will go a long way in its favor with the average youth of vaudeville.

Two born entertainers are Pearson and Gaudin, who know how to do the things they attempt in the musical and dancing realm. Both are experts in their field, and both have how to wear clothes.

The "Auker Brothers," in their farces of the kind to hand balancing, in which they make an unusual use of pilot wheels, and then with a refreshing Scotch burr, are a delight to every audience that hears him.

Notion pictures of the latest and greatest in the current world's events complete a program that is made of unusual acts throughout.

In the persons of Sam Chip and Mary Marle the Orpheum vaudeville bill at the Empire theatre the first half of next week boasts of two fun-makers who have ventured into a new field of

ORPHEUM PICTURE
HOUSE TO RE-OPENNow One of Most Up-to-Date
Theatres in Dominion—Ventilation Perfect.

The Orpheum Picture theatre which has been closed for the last week, will reopen tomorrow. The new of workmen who have worked day and night have transformed this popular theatre into one of the most comfortable and up-to-date theatres in Canada. The ventilation has been greatly improved by the removal of the balcony. A new metal ceiling as well as entirely new decorations gives a pleasing and pleasant appearance which goes long way towards the enjoyment of this class of entertainment. The old seats have been replaced by new, comfortable ones. The opening program will be an exceptionally strong one including the thrilling Kalem feature "The Railroad Conspiracy," an interesting western drama entitled "The Western Riders' Devotion," "The Life of a Slave," a tale of circumstantial evidence in the vest and the raucous comedy "Cheapest Way." At a heavy expense the management has engaged the Crown Quartette as an added attraction. These four popular singers will sing every evening during the performance.

COMEDY ACROBATICS
STAR AT PANTAGESBill for Next Week Has Several Good Musical Numbers Including the Well-known Oxford Quartette.

Acta that are entirely new to the vaudeville world will be seen at the Pantages all next week. The chief attraction will be of a kind that has never been seen in this position before. It is unique, thrilling and comical, and will be presented by five of the best performers on the circuit at the present time. The chief attraction is a delightful musical act. Another act is an acrobatic act and burlesque. A team will introduce some new songs and witty sayings while a made quartette will also make its appearance next week.

The five Proscotts will be the headlining attraction. This quintette is known to be a very clever and capable acrobatic team. They inject a considerable amount of comedy in their act. In fact it is filled with comedy from beginning to end, and is meant more for a comedy act than any other kind. At the same time they perform some sensational acrobatic stunts on the stage and are seen in some thrilling juggling work.

The Bottomly Troupe is composed of four men and will appear in a casting act. These men are acrobatic bar performers and have been pronounced by

KNELL OF RAGTIME SOUNDED

"The days of ragtime are numbered as sure as the stars are in the heavens," says James P. Conlin, who comes to the Empire theatre the first half of next week, as a feature of the Orpheum vaudeville shows. "Your 'Smoochy-Ok-Lins,' 'Muniam Choo-Choo' and kindred effusions set to muscular contortions and inferior music will bid the public a fond good-bye before many months have passed into the discard."

"We will next hear the songs of our numbers, used to crown to us. They will be old and reminiscent. Oh yes! But they will be sweet and they will have words that even a phonograph could not spoil. Wouldn't it be nice to see some court-ship young woman in simple costume come before an audience now and sing 'My Mother Was a Lady'? It would be worth going miles to hear even if she lacked the proper vocal qualifications to secure a metropolitan hit. Such is the only solution of the problem. 'How Can We Achieve Ragtime?' and somebody should start the ball rolling as soon as possible."

LYCEUM OFFERING
ALL NEXT WEEKToronto Players are Excellently
Suited in Their Different Parts.

Lyceum—"Bought and Paid For" Robert Stafford Richard Horn Jimmy Gilfill William Day O'Brien William Day O'Brien Emily Selwyn Virginia Stafford Grace Stylesworth The Maid Hazel Stone George Broadhurst has written many plays in both a light and serious vein, but none of his dramatizations have established such a vague reputation with the indolent stamp of "Bought and Paid For" which the Toronto Players will present at the Lyceum theatre all next week, with matinees Wednesday and Saturday.

"Bought and Paid For" tells a compelling story of a New York clubman whose error for drink took him into the realm of a philosopher. In his sane moments he was as rational as any normal man, but when inebriety takes possession of him he falls victim to a peculiar philosophy which gives a new light on the present position of the proper relations between a man and his wife. Robert Stafford is obsessed with the idea that when he married Virginia Stafford he bought the woman body and soul, and that the Greater God ordained that the husband should have the undeniable privilege of treating his purchase as he liked.

This extraordinary precept which Stafford carried into practice caused a disagreement between the clubman and his wife that led to total estrangement. However, through the good offices of Jimmy Gilfill, a cheerful and happy-go-lucky "friend of the family," Stafford is led to see the error of his ways, and his wife again takes her place in the household, fully reconciled.

Tommy Tucker-like They Were Singing for TrainWhen Pantages Vaudeville Bookers Heard Them and Offered The Four Singer Money Enough to Buy Cake as Well as "White Bread and Butter."

The Oxford Quartette, who will appear at the Pantages theatre all next week, are the vaudeville stars who sang in a New York depot while waiting for a train. The fact of the matter is that the four men were on their way home from college. Two of the boys were coming west, and the other two lived but a short way from New York city.

The train was late, and a large crowd had collected in the waiting room. It was a dismal night, the rain coming down in sheets outside. Inside the people were moaning in rain-soaked clothes. The four college youths strolled in about 20 minutes before the train was due to pull out. One of them commenced to sing a ragtime number and the others joined in on the chorus. This served to pass the time away more pleasantly and when the song was finished the crowd called for more. Several songs were sung before the train left and the boys decided to wait with the waiting people.

In the crowd was a vaudeville booker. He also was waiting for the train. This happened to be Louis Pines, the Pantages representative in New York with offices in the Edifice theatre building on Broadway, and he at once got in touch with the singers. After a few miles of travel he persuaded them to join the Pantages circuit and promised them as many weeks run as they wished. The boys accepted and started out in a few weeks' time to be vaudevillians during the summer months and incidentally pass the time away while they were waiting for college to open in the fall.

The following year they were booked again. Now they have finished their college course and are making the western circuit for Mr. Pantages.

COUNTRY BOY IS EMPIRE OFFERINGEdgar Selwyn's Comedy Was Big Hit on Broadway.

Edgar Selwyn's popular comedy, "The Country Boy," will be the attraction at the Empire theatre October 2, 10, and 11. The story of "The Country Boy" is that of a young man from a small town in New York state who goes to the metropolis to get the stimulus for his ambition by attaching himself to a chorus girl. He soon comes to the end of his rope and is about to make away with himself when he is caught in the firm grip of a man with a healthy and optimistic view of life. The man labors hard and succeeds in restoring the boy to his original self respect and enthusiasm.

JUGGLED BABIES
OUT OF DANGERPantages Headliner - Saved
Children from Being Crushed to Death.

The juggling ability of Frank Proscott served a good purpose the day after the act was booked in Chicago for a headline attraction over the Pantages circuit.

The juggler was strolling down one of the principal streets of Chicago when the fire bell rang. The apparatus came into in streams and right in the middle of the road two children were playing. They had no time to get out of the way. The driver of the motor truck was powerless to avoid striking the little tots, and probably killing them. Proscott was standing only a few feet away at the time. He made a dash in the direction of the children, grabbed one in each hand, and darted to the other side of the road. In picking up one in his right hand he had lost possession of the little bundle of humanity, and by deftly tossing it ahead of him he was able to grasp it a second time as he ran on. When he reached the opposite sidewalk both were firmly clasped with both his hands, and the frantic mothers, a few seconds later, tore them from his arms.

SAVED MOTHER FIRST

John one day took his mother and wife out for a boat ride, and just as they got away from the shore they got into some swift water which turned their boat over and threw them into the water. John swam out to his mother and took her to shore. He then went back for his wife, who was just about to drown. He grabbed her, and just as they got to shore his wife said:
"John, why didn't you save me first?"
"Well," said John, "you see, I couldn't get another mother, but I could get another wife."—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

SAYS WELSH WOULD HAVE MADE RITCHIE STEP SOME

James J. Corbett, talker of Proposed Match Between Willie Ritchie and Freddy Welsh.

James J. Corbett, ex-champion heavyweight pugilist, writing for his paper recently, had the following to say in regard to the fight that was intended to have been fought today at Vancouver between Freddy Welsh and Ritchie.

"An 'indignant' reader of this column has written me a lengthy re-buke because, as he puts it, I praised the ability of Freddy Welsh in a recent article. My correspondent says I 'go out of my way to boost foreign boxers and to belittle the Americans, etc., etc.' Also that I 'should give Ritchie credit for winning the title from one of the greatest lightweight champions in the history of American pugilism.'"

"The letter is certainly the limit. To say you are 'boosting' Freddy Welsh is 'boosting' Willie Ritchie. The article the particular correspondent refers to was printed in this column last week and had my personal criticism taken time to read it carefully he would have found that I praised both Welsh and Ritchie. Furthermore, he would have discovered that I picked Ritchie to win over Welsh in next week's contest."

"As that, readers, I don't think Willie will have such a cinch as some people seem to think. Welsh is a great boxer, and can step 16 pounds to as lively a tune as anyone in the game can play for him. Freddy is no novice—he is as much a champion as Ritchie himself. No dub can win the lightweight championship of Great Britain, and Welsh has twice turned the trick. Don't let anyone tell you Freddy hasn't a chance with any boxer of his weight in the game today."

Service Between Winnipeg and Edmonton Not Inferior to Any on the Continent.

When the Canadian Pacific Railway opened up their new line between Winnipeg and Edmonton, via Yorkton and Saskatoon, they promised that in the future the train runs on that line would equal the best train operation in the Canadian Pacific system, and they are now in a position to announce that their promise has been fulfilled. There has been no complaint in the Winnipeg Shops at Montreal five observation cars containing a drawing room, three state rooms, buffet, dining car, light refreshments, a library stocked with the latest books, magazines, etc., and an observation car furnished with 18 leather upholstered seats with a rear platform on which can be accommodated 12 passengers. These cars have been forwarded from Montreal, and are now in operation on the "Great West" express between Winnipeg, Saskatoon and Edmonton. The cars are electric lighted, and also contain electric lights in the berths. In addition to these new comfortable observation cars, new standard 12 section drawing room sleeping cars, electric lighted throughout, containing electric light in lower and upper berths have also been put in service. These cars have been forwarded to "Imperial Limited," which is not inferior to any train on the Continent.

NEW MAGNIFIC SUGGESTS.

Europe and America are watching a new magazine which is gaining fame abroad. The latest success of this magazine, which is called the "Mea," was made in a race across the hills in Graveland, Ireland, a few weeks ago, when it was awarded two first prizes. These magazines were carried in this race on a Greaves and a Nom motor car, and though the test was extraordinary the magazines responded to the unusual demands with absolutely perfect scores.

Another triumph for the Mea came in the Grand Prix de l'A.C.P. at the races at Dejeu, France, considered the most important of all foreign motor car events. This race was won by a Peugeot car fitted with the Mea. The car's winning second prize in this race also carried a Mea. This achievement is all the more remarkable because of the fact that the races in both places were controlled by competitive products, and the magazines were all sold in the same way and the prizes were made on the basis of unimpaired merit.

The winning cars carried only one magazine each, so the entire fortune of each entry depended on the Mea Magazine, while all competing magazines carried an extra or reserve magazine on each racing car to guard against failure.

The Mea Magazine has made numerous records which have gained it great popularity, and it is said the apparatus will be strongly in evidence in America in the year 1914.

The Mea is manufactured in Stuttgart, Germany, and Americans will be interested in knowing that John Joseph Busch, of St. Louis, is the principal stockholder. Magazine Bros. Inc., 1790 Broadway, New York, general agents for United States and Canada.

GERMANS WANT 'YANKEES' SCALP

Are Predicting That They Will Win Olympic Games at Berlin in 1916

Chicago, Sept. 20.—Germany will defeat the United States at the Olympic games to be held in Berlin during 1916. This is the opinion of the German athletic commission which was recently in Chicago on its tour of inspection and investigation of American athletics and training systems.

America's world supremacy in track and field athletics is directly menaced to the opportunity afforded trainers here to find the talents of individual players according to members of the committee.

"Your park and playground systems are wonderful," declared Lieut. von Helldorf, the spokesman of the party. "We have nothing like this in Germany. I think your supremacy in athletics is due to this. Your trainers have the opportunity to see young boys in active competition to build upon the talents they show there."

"I think your American trainers are much more in their ability to discover latent talent in raw material, but I suppose this merely is a result of the keen competition. In Germany we have no means of discovering in what kind of form of athletes we have the good, for there is nothing like the wholesale competition you have over here. Our boys are selected to be athletes of some sort, and it is only a question of improving for your coaches. In Germany the coach and only has to improve, but must teach

McLoughlin Thinks Wilding Is Perfect Tennis Player

Los Angeles, Sept. 20.—During his trip to England and the continent, Maurice McLoughlin had ample chance to study the difference in tennis methods between this country and those of Great Britain. The fact that Anthony F. Wilding defeated him in the All-England series and that J. C. Parkie, a Scotchman, won two matches out of three, at least by many students, to mean that McLoughlin is not as good a tennis player as these stars.

Both of these experts caught McLoughlin when he was trained too fine by a surfact of tennis. If McLoughlin plays Wilding again, as seems likely to happen in this country next year, nearly all the tennis players will wage on him to win. Thus a comparison of the English and American methods by McLoughlin, though couched in diplomatic terms is very interesting.

"Wilding is what might be termed a sound player," says McLoughlin. "He plays a careful game of tennis and a game that has all the earmarks of study and perfect physical condition. An important match will never find him fagged out or otherwise unprepared."

"Can he be beaten today?"

"Well, it will take a very fast player to do it and then it must be the top of that player's game. Wilding's game is perfect in details, as well as the more general phases of tennis."

Naturally, I do not care to go very much in detail because he defeated me handily. Parkie's game I consider perfect of its kind. He is essentially a base-line player, and probably possesses a finer ground stroke than any other star. His game is also what might be termed 'strokey'—as many of English players' games. He, too, is a steady player and has developed wonderfully in the past two years."

"Isn't Parkie, like other Englishmen, rather old to offer much chance for further improvement?"

"No," answered McLoughlin, and the question opens up a subject that is intensely interesting. "Even a casual observer will notice that an Englishman shows real tennis calibre after he has reached the thirties, while, with the exception of Laced, our stars are in their early twenties as a rule. The explanation is obvious. In England the boys do not devote over tennis for the reason that they, and occasionally older people, look upon it as a girl's game. The boys believe it is a game for what we call 'mollified' people. Indeed, I noticed a school advertisement in a British paper very boastful of a rule that prohibited tennis for its students, while encouraging cricket."

"That rule, I am told, is not uncommon."

"Later in life the young Englishman may take a fancy to the game, but he is by that time usually well along in his twenties. Fear of being called a 'dick' stops many of the young boys from taking a hand at tennis."

"The most pronounced difference to my mind, between the English and American games, is the difference of the strokes—the knock of playing a sharp net game, as we do, and the perfect ball line game as they do. English tennis necessitates perfect footwork and long volley shots that barely skim the net. Our game is more aggressive. 'Tennis' service and a rush to the net is considered the best tennis here."

"The British star is also perfect on ground strokes and these often make or round out his game. Parkie is supreme in that one stroke and his footwork is splendid. Generally speaking, it is conceded that our youthful start at tennis is just that much of a handicap for the Britisher to carry, for our players have a big lead in experience when the Englishman is just starting out."

McLoughlin, when asked as to his own views on tennis, maintained that common sense was the greatest requisite.

"I never touch putter, candy or heavy, saucy foodstuffs when I am preparing for or in an important tournament. It isn't good to play too much tennis, indeed, either."

"Gradual development of the length of your game is a safeguard against fatigue. Control of your nervous system is equally important. Some of us cannot help but show, in the excitement of the game, the strain of a match. That loses more games than any other cause, to my mind."

"If the player is nervous, his game is bound to drop below his normal form. William A. Larned is a fitting example of what brains and care of yourself can do for a boy or a man who loves tennis and wants to be a star. He has been and is my ideal."

PRES. WILSON HAS TROUBLE AT GOLF

Poor Golfers Take Heart After Watching President of United States.

By W. W. VERMADE.
Washington, D. C., Sept. 20.—Chances, golfers! President Wilson plays just as badly as any of you. If you want real recreation for your mind and body, go out to the Washington Country club in the Virginia hills almost any pleasant afternoon, and watch the president of the United States play them. He can do it to a finish.

Many a humble golfer has watched the president and has taken courage. Surely, if the president of the United States does such things, then it is pardonable in a more humble golfer. Witness Van A. Walton, a citizen of Grand Rapids, Michigan, who plays a game all his own, and isn't stuck up about it—but there's no use going into painful details.

Mr. Walton stood on the first tee on a recent afternoon when the president attempted to make a drive. "It was drizzling a little, but President Wilson is not soluble, and doesn't mind the rain. He pulled down the driver, took a liberal shot, and the ball dribbled off down to the right, naturally near the ditch."

When the president found his ball, he was about as far from the hole as when he was struck. As he searched for the ball he had that puzzled look which all golfers know so well. And he said half to himself, "I wonder what I did then." Meanwhile Mr. Walton, who does things himself, was a happy witness.

Quite Fond of Ditches.
Just a little later Mr. Walton was watching the president as he searched for the ball. The latter had fouled his drive and had sent it somewhere near the ditch, which is a common property for both the drive and sixth holes. When he got to the ditch, he found it. "I wonder what I did then," Mr. Walton, who does things himself, was a happy witness.

All golfers agree that golf is played

ENGLAND FALLING DOWN IN SPORT

Duke of Westminster Gives List of Recent Losses in Athletics.

In a recent letter appealing on behalf of the 1900 Olympic Games fund, the Duke of Westminster said: "Many of my countrymen and country women realize what Great Britain has lost during recent years in the various fields of sport. Here is a list."

TINKER IN FIST FIGHT

Chicago, Sept. 20.—At Cincinnati recently Manager Joe Tinker of the Cubs and Shortstop Macaville and First Baseman Pat Myers of the Boston team were put off the grounds in the first inning of the first game of a double-header, following a fist fight. Macaville was on second base when Sweeney grounded to Dodge. Macaville tried for third, and was run down between Dodge and Tinker. After Tinker and Macaville collided. Each struck a blow. Myers ran from the first base coaching line and struck Tinker on the jaw. Tinker rebuffed. Players of both teams dashed on to the field and surrounded the scoundrels. For a time it looked as though the fight would develop into a free-for-all. It is probable the men will draw

BAT NELSON A SLEUTH

Chicago, Sept. 20.—Exit Oscar Ballou Nelson, as a prize fighter. Exit Oscar Ballou Nelson, as a detective. Whether the one-time champion English prize fighter will make a successful "rumbler" man will be determined in a few days. The reason for Nelson's entrance into the detective line is that five of his horses and a jockey, known as "Jinny," have been stolen. While Father Nelson and the rest of the Nelson family sleep, thieves raid the Nelson farm and drive away the horses and "Jinny." The thefts were not discovered until later when "Jinny's" braying was missed.

A telegram was sent to "Bat," who is still following his line in the East. "Bat" wired back that he will catch the thieves. The police patrolled the Nelson farm, promising to capture the thieves without his famous son's aid.

BOOKIES ARE NOT THE SPORTS THEY WERE YEARS AGO

Fortunes No Longer Made and Lost on Single Race as in Old Days.

SOME REMARKABLE BETS OF THOSE SPORTY DAYS

Davies, the Leviathan, Bet Mr. Clarke $500,000 against $5,000 on a Single Race and Won.

"Bookies are afraid to lay good odds nowadays," an old race-gover remarked at Newmarket recently. "Bets are more trifling compared with those of the old days." And certainly one does not hear of "plumbers" such as those, for instance, which characterized the transactions of Mr. Davies, who first bookmaker to be called a "leviathan," who betted in tens of thousands.

In the year 1855 he laid Mr. Clarke $500,000 to $5,000 against each of three horses the latter had in the Derby of that year. Mr. Clarke having to pay, while if barbarian had won the Derby of 1855 instead of Daniel O'Connor he "leviathan" would have needed something like $500,000. One of Davies' first big wagers was to lay Lord Stafford $500,000 to $5,000 against the Duke of the Devonshire. Davies started life as a carpenter, and began betting in a small street, Gray's Inn road by taking half-crown bets. But by great shrewdness and audacity he soon gained the confidence of the public, and the amounts he paid away to ready-money clients were enormous. It is said never to have quibbled or suggested mistakes, and such was his honesty that on one occasion, when he paid out a successful client, he had the sum making the bet he paid the winnings over to his widow.

Another famous bookmaker who had big bets, and in whom the racing fraternity had the same high confidence, was the late Mr. Fry. In the course of his career he paid out as much as $100,000 on a single wager, and in more than one instance a sum of $50,000. And while he lost upward of $500,000 through defaulters, nobody ever lost a penny owing to his failure to pay up.

It has been suggested that there have never been such big betting transactions during the last 20 years. In 1902, however, when Lord Patrick won the Derby, the Grately stable had a tremendous gamble on Pokin, and would have taken down more than $500,000 out of the ring if he had won. Only a few Epsoms ago in the Derby of that year, Mr. Clarke having to pay, while if barbarian had won the Derby of 1855 instead of Daniel

PORTLAND WILL QUIT IF PROTEST IS SUSTAINED

Will Play No More in Northwestern League if Game is Taken From Them.

Portland, Sept. 20.—The fate of the Northwestern League in Portland hinges on the protest against the playing of hockey days in the eighth inning of a game last week, in which he started a rally that eventually resulted in a victory in the twelfth inning.

If the protest of Manager Brown, of Vancouver, is upheld by the powers that be, it will sound the death knell for the Northwestern League in Portland, according to a statement issued recently by Judge W. W. McCreedy, owner of the franchise in both the Portland and Pacific Coast leagues.

Davis is a young infielder who was purchased in June from the Walla Walla club of the Western Tri-State League and furnished the season there from the Northwest. He was sent to bat in a pinch in the eighth inning.

He based his protest on the rule which prohibits the sale or release of players during the season.

NEW YORK SHOULD BE FAVORITES IN WORLD'S SERIES

Has Strongest Pitching, Staff and Should Win if They Play to Form.

CONNIE MACK IS HARD PRESSED FOR PITCHERS

Athletics Have a Shade Better Infield, McGraw's Outfielders Stronger—Pay Your Money and Take Your Choice.

By W. J. Madden.

New York, Sept. 20.—The Giants and Athletics this year should be the favorites in the world's series. Such a classic is good or bad, according to whether the contestants are evenly matched. Not only are the Giants stronger, but they have a better pitching staff, and a better infield than the Athletics.

There never was such a world's series as this. The best of the best are in the line-up, at least from the standpoint of the spectators. There were a few pitching duels, but the great majority of the games were slugfests, in which one or the other was put to the test.

As a rule there were no half measures. Either a team was very good, or it was very bad. And cropping out with the most noticeable "babe" league star on every hand came a series of plays of such exceptional brilliancy as fairly shocked the spectators of these classic games.

This series went right full gamut, including one extra inning game, which is the very best proof of the balance of the rivalry. Boston outplayed New York in the first half and outplayed it in the second half. For an error in one of the early games Boston would probably have won in four straight games.

Finally, when the game of a first pitch New York on every inning with the best field and in a position to win with the meekest game in the world, New York had the game largely in its hands. The Athletics had a better field, but the Giants had a better pitching staff.

SALE OF LOTS AT PRINCE GEORGE

BRITISH COLUMBIA

SITUATED at the confluence of the Fraser and Nechako Rivers in Central British Columbia, 450 miles north-east of Vancouver, B.C., and 467 miles east of Prince Rupert, B.C., or midway between Prince Rupert and Edmonton, Alta., on the main line of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway.

By reason of its central location, Prince George will be the natural distributing point for the extensive territory comprised in the Pacific Province of the Dominion, and it has therefore long been the expectations of the general public that, upon the completion of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, Prince George will early become a large and important center.

Having purchased what was known as the Fort George Indian Reserve, No. 1, for the purpose of locating a townsite thereon, the Grand Trunk Pacific Development Company Limited has caused the same to be surveyed and platted and will offer lots in this townsite for sale by public auction at Vancouver, British Columbia, Wednesday, September 17th, 1913, and at Edmonton, Alberta, Wednesday, September 24th, 1913.

The terms of this sale will be one-quarter cash and the balance payable in one, two and three years with six per cent. interest. For further particulars and plans apply to:

OMNIBUS STRIKE

IN LONDON, ENG.,
HAS IMPROVED

'Busmen' Who Had Not Quit
Work Signed a Truce and Stayed On.

STRIKE EXTENDED
TO OTHER CITIES

Birmingham Labor Leaders
Endeavoring to Induce a Walkout in That City.

London, Sept. 20.—The situation in London was improved last night. The men who had not already gone out, agreed to a truce pending arbitration of the dispute on the employees by the board of trade. Meanwhile, however, the motor men and conductors of the trilling omnibus company will remain idle, which will keep 600 buses off the streets. Two of the motor bus companies have agreed to recognize the men's union, and will continue to operate their vehicles even if arbitration fails.

The danger of a railway strike is not yet over. The Liverpool strikers have accepted the offer of the managers to reinstatement men who are willing to handle traffic which, under the law, the companies must accept, but they made their acceptance on the acquiescence of the men in Birmingham and other strike centres to the plan.

The Birmingham labor leaders are still attempting to force a general strike. They met the employees of the national union today, and the result of the decisions reached will be announced tomorrow. The door has been opened for a climb down by the strikers through the announcement that some which the strikers had refused to handle were both union and non-union.

The strike has extended to Sheffield,
Crow, Derby and other places.
Public was quiet last night, but the number of strikers has increased. The police adopted unusual measures to handle the situation. The number of the strikers, which the strike leaders had planned for last night instead of today, a heavy rainstorm, however, caused the strikers to seek cover, thus breaking up the parade.

Manchester the trade of the port is paralyzed.
Five thousand dock men are now on strike.

NOMINATIONS DOWN TO TWO MEN.
Ottawa, Sept. 19.—The next general election of the Dominion House of Commons will, it is expected, be held in the fall of 1915. The present composition of the House is as follows:
Conservative, 100; Liberal, 100; Progressive, 100; and Independent, 100.

MONTREAL FIRM
TO AUDIT BOOKS
FOR NEXT FOUR YEARS.

The mayor announced today that the firm of McIntosh and Hyde, of Montreal, have been appointed to audit the independent audit of the city's books. The work will start on October 1st, and will be completed on or before December 31st. It is proposed to make an annual covering of the years 1910 to 1913 inclusive.
This firm recently made an audit of Calgary's books. The mayor explained that an outside firm had been selected for the purpose of avoiding local jealousy or prejudice. At a recent meeting of the city council the majority decided that in addition to eight new assistants for the new city auditor an independent audit covering the past four years should also be authorized. The mayor was instructed to make the covering of the past four years do this work, and today he selected McIntosh and Hyde to do the work.

LORD'S DAY ALLIANCE BUSY AT MOOSE JAW

News Vendors and Shoe Shiners Arranged Charged With Keeping Open on Sunday.

Moose Jaw, Sept. 20.—Four proprietors of shoe shining establishments in Moose Jaw, Ont., agents, were arrested in the police court yesterday afternoon, charged with carrying on their respective businesses on Sunday, contrary to the Lord's Day Act.
Two of the shoe shiners pleaded guilty and were fined $5 each, and the other two were charged until today.

ELECTION OF DR. SEYMOUR AS PRES. PROTESTED

Canadian Public Health Association Opposes Provincial Health Commissioner.

ELECTION WOULD DISRUPT ORGANIZATION

Dr. Seymour Was at One Time Charged by Medical Association of Saskatchewan
With Incompetency.

Regina, Sask., Sept. 20.—The second day of the third annual congress of the Canadian Public Health Association was featured by at least 15 interesting papers, read before the different sectional meetings and the general sessions. A surprise was sprung when it became known that the medical fracture of Regina had entered a protest against the election of Dr. A. Seymour, provincial health commissioner, as the next president of the association at the annual meeting Saturday morning. The news leaked out this morning, that Dr. Seymour had been picked for the leadership of the association, and the immediate result of the news was the vigorous protest that his election at a time when he was charged by the medical association of Saskatchewan with incompetency, would disrupt the Dominion organization by causing the medical men in this province to secede from it. What result the protest will have is unknown and the delegates to the congress expect a lively time at the meeting tomorrow.

Another important announcement made today was that of Major Lorne Dunlop, M.P., of Ottawa, who made public the fact that the Dominion has recently established an army medical school in connection with the central laboratory of hygiene at Ottawa, at which higher instruction in military sanitation is being given.

In school classes are held in which military medical officers are trained in laboratory work and army sanitation instruction. All the officers holding sanitary appointments, or desirous of qualifying for the same, are eligible to attend, provided they are properly recommended and a vacancy exists in the classes at the time of application.
Miss Mary McEwen, Chicago, gave an interesting address on "The Value and Civic Standards" at the afternoon general session. In an overflowing hall she presented a brilliant social gathering at the parliament building, at which all the members of the provincial government were present, and were introduced to the outlook of the province. Dancing followed the evening session.

Today the annual meeting of the association will take place. Outside of the fact that is expected over the election of Dr. Seymour as president, it is not expected that there will be any other contests for the office. In the afternoon the delegates will go to Pelee Island, where they will inspect the provincial sanatorium located at that point. The congress will officially close at the conclusion of this excursion.

GOVERNMENT HAS SOLUTION OF WATERWAYS PROBLEM; PROGRAMME WILL BE ANNOUNCED IN HOUSE TUESDAY

PARTIES HOPE
FOR COMPLETION OF AGREEMENT

Leaders Think Passing of Tariff Bill Looks Encouraging.

DEADLOCK RESULTED
SEVERAL TIMES

President Wilson Had to Be Appealed to Several Times
for Solution.

Washington, Sept. 20.—Hope of the conferees of the senate and house reaching a complete agreement on the tariff bill this week went glimmering yesterday when the conferees met today with about 15 questions still in disagreement. It is a matter of three or four days next week probably before the bill will be completed.

At the afternoon session disputes over works of art, fur and leather were disposed of. Works of art were put on the free list practically as originally proposed by the house and without certain restrictions. Furs, dressed and undressed, were freed, the house proceeding from its demand for duties ranging from 10 to 40 per cent, and leather was freed with the exception of a 10 per cent, on an enameled upholstery leather. The house had been generally on the free list and the senate amendment made them double at 10 per cent.

Waterways May Be Extended to E. D. and B. C. Railway Yards

J. L. McArthur, of Winnipeg, Contractor for the Line, Interviews
Mayor Short This Morning and Makes Proposition Which Will Be Submitted to City Council—Yards Are at Corner of 140th St. and 130th Ave.

If a proposition made by J. D. Mc
Arthur, of Winnipeg, to the mayor this morning, made with the approval of the city council, the waterways system
of the city will be extended at once to the yards of the Edmonton, Dunvegan
and British Columbia railway, located
at 140th street and 130th avenue.
After the interview, the mayor-stated that Mr. McArthur's proposition, when
in proper shape would be brought before the city council. "It is quite probable that if the work is authorized this year," said the mayor, "I will mean that Calder will be taken into the city limits, as the main line will run through Elm Park and Calder. The residents of Elm Park will be interested, as they have been asking for water
in that subdivision where there are many fine houses and a lot of people."
"How would the work be financed?"
the mayor was asked. He replied that if the city authorized the extension of the city's system the company would take care of the finances, until such time as the city was ready to take up the debt. The mayor explained that the work would commence at the corner of 140th street and 130th avenue, where the present city main ends.

DIAZ READY TO RETURN HOME

So Far He Has Received No
Word from Huerta Ordering His Return.

Paris, Sept. 20.—General Felix Diaz, who has just returned here from Hartitz, told the Associated Press today that he had seen the despatch from Mexico City in the Paris papers saying he had been summoned back to Mexico by President Huerta, but that this was all he knew about the matter. Thus far, he said, he had received no order to return, and would remain in Paris until he did so, holding himself in readiness to start at a moment's notice.
"I am a soldier and an always prepared to go anywhere at any time in obedience to my superiors, when I am ordered," added General Diaz.

According to one of his secretaries,
General Diaz believes that the coldness shown him during his trip up the Pacific Coast to Vancouver was due more to suspicion of the motives of his mission to Japan than to any animosity by the people because of the part he took in the overthrow of Madero. The secretary added that General Diaz feels that the U. S. government may not be unfriendly towards his ambitions to be

Business Men Considering Opposing Street Numbering

Meeting This Morning Considered Circulation of Petition But Decided to More Fully Ascertain the Sentiment of Citizens and Give System Chance to Make Good.

With the intention of circulating a petition calling for the discontinuance of the new street numbering plan, which is being put into effect, a body of representative business men, including lawyers, real estate men and merchants, have been conferring together for the past few days, and this morning held a meeting to take action
one way or the other.

Nearly every man present was dissatisfied with the new system, but after careful consideration they decided not to withhold the petition until fuller information may be secured as to the sentiment of the majority of the citizens in regard to the matter.

The question was dealt with very fairly; men who were opposed to the plan presenting its merits and asking for its adoption, and those who had been no objection to the plan
forwarded by the Retail Merchants' association.

Some expressed the opinion that the system had been put through over the heads of the citizens and that if a vote were taken it would be overwhelmingly
one way or the other.

It was decided, however, that, lest they should regret their action later, it would be best to wait a while and give the new idea time to "make good,"
if possible.

Until something more definite has been determined in regard to the movement, the citizens back of it refuse to allow their names to be made public.

Waterways May Be Extended to E. D. and B. C. Railway Yards

J. L. McArthur, of Winnipeg, Contractor for the Line, Interviews
Mayor Short This Morning and Makes Proposition Which Will Be Submitted to City Council—Yards Are at Corner of 140th St. and 130th Ave.

If a proposition made by J. D. Mc
Arthur, of Winnipeg, to the mayor this
city council, the waterways system
of the city will be extended at once to
the yards of the Edmonton, Dunvegan
and British Columbia railway, located
at 140th street and 130th avenue.
After the interview, the mayor-stated
that Mr. McArthur's proposition, when
in proper shape would be brought before the city council. "It
is quite probable that if the work is authorized this year," said the mayor, "I
will mean that Calder will be taken in-
to the city limits, as the main line will run through Elm Park and Calder. The residents of Elm Park will be interested, as they have been asking for water
in that subdivision where there are
many fine houses and a lot of people."

"How would the work be financed?"
the mayor was asked. He replied that if the city authorized the extension
of the city's system the company would
take care of the finances, until such
time as the city was ready to take up
the debt. The mayor explained that the work would commence at the corner of 140th street and 130th avenue, where the present city main ends.

FORMER C.P.R. OFFICIAL COMMITTED FOR TRIAL

Charge Against Him Is for Falsifying Accounts in Connection With the Reve Department.

Moose Jaw, Sept. 20.—A. D. Jeffry, formerly storekeeper of the newsstand department of the C.P.R. in this city, was yesterday afternoon remanded to stand trial at the next session of the supreme court, on the charge of falsifying his stock sheet in order to cover up a shortage in his accounts amounting to over $2500. Jeffry left the employ of the company on July 15 and after his departure an investigation revealed a condition of affairs that resulted in his arrest.
Monthly report sheets which he was supposed to make out and retain until sent from October of the past year until June have mysteriously disappeared.
J. L. Bennett of Regina, prosecutor for the railway company and W. E.
Knowles acted as counsel for the accused.

Unnoticed Bill in orders yesterday repeals act which set forth waterways default—Clears the way for legislation which Premier will introduce Tuesday which will contain outline of plan— Will have unanimous support of government ranks

THE INTRODUCTION OF THE BILL.
Hon. Mr. Sifton asked leave to introduce a bill, and moved the first reading of a bill entitled: "An act to repeal chapter 9 of the Statutes of Alberta, 1910, second session, and for other purposes."

That the government has a solution of the waterways problem which will be unanimously satisfactory to the Liberal members of the house, was evidenced by the introduction of the bill by Premier Sifton at the dis-session of the legislature on Friday afternoon. Chapter 9 of the revised statutes of Alberta, 1910, second session, is the act setting for the default of the Alberta and Great Waterways Railway company and the rights of the province in connection therewith.
The repeal of this act is the first step necessary to the solution of the problem. This will clear the way for the legislation which the government is ready to submit and which will receive the hearty and unanimous support of all Liberal members to whom it is submitted at a later date held on Thursday next last.

While it is possible that Premier Sifton may have this bill in consideration on Tuesday next, he will outline its provisions and place the question before the legislature on that day.

No Room For Criticism.
Although no official announcement as to the character of the program has been made, it is generally assumed that the problem will be settled in a surprisingly satisfactory manner. The provision will provide for the execution of the program, and the opposition will have nothing left to complain about, such as the impairment of the province's credit, etc.

Program May Be Greatly Enlarged.
It may be expected that the Waterways program will far exceed its original limits and may involve further railway construction of vast extent, not only to the southern part of the province, but to the south as well.

Repeal Railway Builders Here.
What is it? It is a collection of repeal bills which have been in preparation for several days and will come before the house on Tuesday next. The repeal will be so sweeping and so complete as to place the government far beyond the pale of criticism. Nor will it be met with less ardor than the southern part of the province than it will in the north. There will be no room for criticism of any kind.

Daughter.

MCCALLAN WITH PEARY
ON TRIP TO NORTH POLE

Mary Peary Was Born Farthest North of Any White Child—Was Christened
"Snow Bird" by Eskimos.

New York, Sept. 20.—There comes from St. John's, Newfoundland, the report of the engagement of Miss Mary Peary, daughter of Rear-Admiral Peary, to Donald Mac-Millan, who accompanied Peary on his last trip to the pole.

Miss Peary is the "Snow Bird" of the Esquimaux, who bestowed that title upon her shortly after her birth further north than any white child in the world, her mother being the first white woman to winter with an Arctic expedition. Dr. Mac-Millan started this year for the north on a three-year voyage, but the Crozier Land Expedition which he headed was unable to reach its winter quarters, Flayer Bay, on the Erick, the vessel substituted for its first ship, the Thetis, wrecked off Labrador.

The country is looking immense and very prosperous," said Mr. MacArthur.
A month more of this nice weather and there will certainly be a marked change for the better on the situation generally, when this year's vast wheat crop gets to the market.

In speaking of the water problem, he said that the company must have water and that an effort would be made to get something definite done in the near future.

Mr. McArthur will probably return to Winnipeg tomorrow.

COUNCIL TO ABOLISH EMPLOYMENT BUREAUS

Want All Agencies Under Direct Supervision of Municipal or Provincial Authorities.

Montreal, Sept. 20.—The Montreal
Trades and Labor Council has made request upon the provincial and municipal authorities for the abolition of all employment bureaus except those under the control of the city or provincial government. The request is the outcome of repeated complaints of extor-sion on the part of the independent employment agencies. Two convictions on charges of extortion by those bureaux were made by magistrate Lafontaine in law court today.

BRYAN CAN NOW SPARE TIME FOR STATE AFFAIRS

Secretary of State Finishes Chautauque Engagements
for Season.

CRITICISM TO KEEP HIM OFF STAGE NEXT YEAR

Will Now Turn Attention to Knotty Problems that Perplex His Department at Washington.

Washington, Sept. 20.—So far as has been announced, this will be the last day of the secretary of state on the Chautauque circuit, for the present at least. Mr. Bryan's engagements on the Maryland and Pennsylvania circuit will end with his appearance at Washington this evening, according to the schedule given out at his office some time ago.

It has been explained that this is about as late in the fall as the test meetings can be conducted with equal success at the gate. With the approach of cool weather, the Chautauque managers find it advisable to fold up their canvas and put it away for next year's round of varied entertainments. There is reason to believe that except for credit at the baggage of the fat profits from this summer's speaking engagements Mr. Bryan will be able to deliver his final speech at Washington. It has been obvious that the constant torrent of criticism of his Chautauque appearances has been most galling to him, and that any relief from the spotlight of publicity that has been turned on his activities on the road will be most welcome.

Mr. Bryan, it is understood, feels that the criticism against him has been unfair and most unjust, but having stuck to his course and fulfilled all his engagements he considers that he now can retire from the lecture platform, at least temporarily, with good grace. By many, the prediction is made that even though Mr. Bryan made no concessions to criticisms this year, and even though the President said no word around his Chautauque speaking, there will be no repetition next season.

ASK B.C. FARMERS TO EXHIBIT STOCK

Panama Fair Official Says It Would Benefit Canada.

Vancouver, Sept. 20.—Daniel O'Connell, lively live stock commissioner for the Panama Exposition to be held in San Francisco in 1915, has written to the Progress Club asking it to use its best efforts to interest the farmers of the province in a livestock exhibit for this fair.

He suggests that the agricultural association and the farmers as individuals be approached and induced to impress on the government the desirability of having Canada represented with an exhibit of this class of agriculture. With the new tariff law in existence he declares that Canada has an opportunity of shipping livestock to the United States in large quantities and suggests this as the best method of attracting the attention of the world to the fine class of stock produced in this country.

FEDERAL HOUSE WILL NOT OPEN BEFORE JAN.

By-elections Will In All Probability take Place in November, Postponing
Opening of Parliament.

Ottawa, Sept. 20.—Premier Borden will return to the capital on Sunday, when it is expected several important items of business will be taken up, including the fixing of the date for the by-elections. As it is now practically certain that parliament will not meet until January, the voting is not likely to take place before November.

PARLIAMENT BUILDINGS TO COST OVER $2,000,000

Manitoba's Legislature Will Be Housed in Handsome Structure to Cost
Nearly $3,000,000.

Winnipeg, Sept. 20.—Application was made this morning for a permit for the Manitoba new parliament buildings. The plans, as filed by Thomas A. Kelly and Sons, call for the expenditure of $2,450,750 on the work.

The granting of this permit will bring the total permits for the year to well over the $10,000,000 mark, and will, it is believed, result in a saving of $500,000 for the year, there is a prospect of last year's grand total of over $20,000,000 being exceeded.

ROCHE ARRIVES HOME.

Ottawa, Sept. 20.—Hon. W. J. Roche, minister of the interior, arrived in the evening of last week in the west. It is understood that as a result of requests made by the minister during his trip, he probably made a number of changes in the present departmental regulations. Mr. Roche says he feels much improved in health by his western trip.

MILITANTS FORCE FIGHT INTO HOME CIRCLES

Christabel Pankhurst Causes Strife in Ranks of Women's Social Union
by a Series of Articles.

London, Sept. 20.—There is much discussion in the ranks of the women's social and political union over a series of articles appearing in the Suffragette by Christabel Pankhurst, wherein she seeks to bring the fight into British home circles. Her articles are appearing in the plain language which is not usually found outside of medical works. It is even hinted that the government may take action, seeking to suppress the publication.

Suffragettes, while attempting to defend Christabel Pankhurst, the subject needs attention. Many wealthy supporters hint at the withdrawal of their support on account of their belief that the young woman is transgressing proper bounds.

RIOT INSURANCE IS LLOYD'S LATEST

Premiums Protection Against Damage from Strikes
Rising.

London, Sept. 20.—The outstanding feature in the market in non-marine risks at Lloyd at present is insurance against riots in Belfast as a consequence of the forthcoming imposition of Home Rule. Policies for large amounts have already been taken out; they will be valid for one year, as from January 1 next, and the percentage at which business is being accepted is steadily rising.

The first policies taken out were at five shillings per cent, but many of the leading underwriters very shortly gave notice that this rate would be raised, and within a few days it is anticipated that no business will be accepted for less than ten shillings per cent. According to one report the insurance already effected to cover damage to mills and houses amounts to no less than $4,000,000. It is impossible, however, to rely on such statements. In many cases the value of the mills, warehouses, and other buildings is so great that it has been impossible to insure them for the full amount, as the market for such insurance is at present very limited. Partial insurances have, therefore, been effected in most cases, the underwriters agreeing to pay for damage up to $100,000 or some other fixed figure.

FOREIGN POLICY IS IMPERIALISTIC

So Says London Spectator in Summarizing Wilson's

London, Sept. 20.—"There is now a national foreign policy in the United States which may be called imperialistic or not, as one chooses to see," says the Spectator, today, in summarizing the work of President Wilson's administration. Credit is bestowed on him for extending the Monroe doctrine so as to establish protectorates over San Domingo and Honduras, the Spectator adds.

"The treaty with Nicaragua which Mr. Bryan has to be so careful that the democrats have taken bodily the foreign policy of the republicans. It seems unlikely that such a thing could have happened, but the character of the Nicaragua treaty leaves us in no doubt. It is evident that Mr. Bryan has taken over President Roosevelt's policy—an event comparable with the adoption of Lord Lansdowne's policy by Sir Edward Grey, the British foreign secretary. The immediate motive for this national foreign policy is, of course, to be found in the Panama canal. It is convenient for the United States, which has to protect the canal, that the Caribbean Sea should be as far as possible an American sea."

UNREGISTERED OWNER NOT RECOGNIZED IN COURT

Because He Had Not Registered His Transfer With Saunders Lost Suit Against Railway Company.

An argument on the appeal from a decision by Justice Walsh in the case of William Saunders vs. The Edmonton, Dunsmuir & British Columbia Railway Company, was heard by the Supreme Court on June yesterday. The railway in the construction of its line by proper legal procedure acquired the right to cross certain lands registered in the name of a man named Ave. The price paid by the court for the farm was paid to the court for the owner, but he had not registered. Saunders claimed that he had not received proper notice that condemnation proceedings were to be taken, but inasmuch as he had failed to register as the owner the court ruled that he was not entitled to recover. The case was decided for the defendant. The plaintiff entered an appeal.

DR. SUN YAT SEN TRAVELS INCOGNITO

Former President of Chinese Republic Reported Hiding
in Vancouver.

Vancouver, Sept. 20.—Travelling incognito, as Wong Kwok Yin, Dr. Sun Yat Sen, former president of the Chinese republic and leader of the revolutionary forces in the great rebellion that has disturbed China recently, is reported to be in hiding in Vancouver. He was recognized by patriots in spite of the fact that his appearance has been altered by shaving off his moustache. The rumor spread through the city and is believed to be true by Chinatown, where it is asserted that Dr. Sun Yat Sen landed at Victoria from Japan on the last trip of the Japanese liner Chishima Maru. He remained in Victoria for some days with friends, later attempting to enter the United States as a Japanese student. Admission was refused him by the immigration authorities at Seattle, so he returned to the capital, coming here on the Victoria-Vancouver ferry, according to the story.

The impression here is that he is endeavoring to make his way to Banchuan, recently supplied with funds, he will remain, but he does not feel secure in disclosing his identity to his fellow countrymen in British Columbia, who are nearly all supporters of the present government.

EX-COURT INTERPRETER CHARGED WITH MURDER

Money Lender.

Vancouver, Sept. 20.—George Bloloff, a local Russian, former interpreter in the police court, was arrested Thursday on a charge of murdering Alexander Schkinnoff, a wealthy Russian money lender, who mysteriously disappeared in Chinatown last November. It is alleged in the information, which is sworn to by Papy Schkinnoff, a brother of the missing man, that Bloloff received $1,000 from a countryman, Nava, Danokoff, on November 4th, as the price of his assistance in the murder of Schkinnoff.

Brandon, Sept. 20.—A case in which a farmer engaged men for threshing at the rate of $2.50 per day and then deducted $1.50 for their board, was the cause of an action for wages at the police court here yesterday. Eight Galicians were jointly awarded the sum of $208.35 by Magistrate Bates. The defendant was William Hube, a farmer in this district. The board rate charged by Hube was $1.50 per day, which was strongly condemned by the magistrate.

PRIDE OVERCOMES GERMAN LOVE

Late Princess Sophia of Saxe-Weimar Refused to Give Up Her Rank to Marry
Man She Loved.

Berlin, Sept. 20.—The Princess Sophia of Saxe-Weimar suicide shows plainly that pride is stronger than love in the German character. The princess pleaded long and earnestly with the Grand Duke to consent to her marriage, and paid several personal visits to Weimar to see him. The duke, however, sternly maintained his family's feudal traditions, and absolutely forbade the marriage.

Later he realized the pain he was causing, and, acting on the Kaiser's friendly hint, suggested a way out. "If you solemnly state before the world," he said, "that you will renounce your title rank, and will become a simple subject, my objection will be withdrawn." The princess refused the proposal in answer, replying: "If the princess of Saxe-Weimar lives in honor, she is not going to swap into a marriage through a subterfuge. A princess is a princess and a princess remains." Her lover vainly pleaded that he loved her for herself and not because she was a princess, but pride proved a barrier that not even love could overcome.

The scene in the castle today was a touching one. Prince William, her father, led Von Bleichroeder, the lover, into the drawing room, where the princess, in a coffin of oak with silver fittings, is laid. It is banded high with carnations and lilies, the princess' favorite flowers.

The dead princess was a great favorite with the Heidelberg students over many of whose sporting events she presided. She was a fearless horsewoman, and an enthusiastic follower of tennis, yachting and other sports.

Italian Go-between gives startling Evidence Regarding

Marked Money to Obtain Secrets of State Attorney's Office for Smothering Evidence

Chicago, Sept. 20—A startling story of the arson ring's alleged efforts to smother prosecution, was told today at the state attorney's office by John Gagliardo, alleged go-between in the trapping of special investigator Charles Furttmann.

Gagliardo said that the plan was to kidnap attorney Johnson's nine-year-old son, and to hold the lad as a clue over the prosecutor. Gagliardo said that the proposition was put to him because of his wide acquaintance among Italians, some of whom were suspected of being black mallers.

The plan was considered for some time, and then dropped. Attorney Johnson confirmed Gagliardo's story to the extent that he did receive an threatening letter, but nothing ever came of it, he said.

The name of the man alleged to have suggested the conspiracy was given to State Attorney Macklay Horne.
